About us BOOK-A-TALE

A new project

Hello to all,

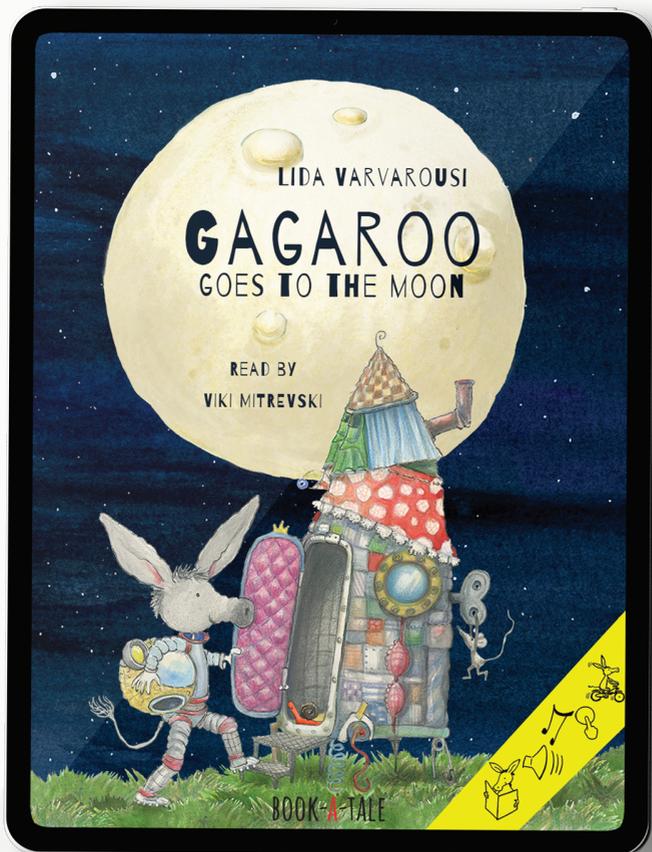

We hope this catalogue finds you all in the best health and spirit. The past year was the perfect time to look for a different approach to get stories to children. Out of a spectrum of digital possibilities, we chose the ePUB3 conversion of our existing titles as the right way to go. ePUB3 books remain close to the original picture book but are enriched with narration, sounds, animation, music, and interactive moments. Ok. We need a screen to read and enjoy the ePUB3 versions, but even so we are fully happy with the outcome. We love physical books above all and will continue to make them, but at the same time we are convinced that this digital approach to tell stories, can open a world for many children not having access to physical books.

Our first ePUB3 title 'GAGAROO goes to the Moon' is very well received by both children and adults.

Encouraged by so much enthusiasm, we published the Dutch and Greek ePUB3 editions of 'GAGAROO goes to the Moon' at the same time. We will continue to convert more titles to ePUB3 versions, as you can find in this catalogue.

Gagaroo goes to the Moon

Lida Varvarousi

Gagaroo the donkey has a big dream: taking a special trip to the moon with his best friend Apollo.

But how will he get there? By elevator, canon ball, a catapult or rocket? They decide by rocket is the best way to go.

GAGAROO GOES TO THE MOON is an irresistible story of a donkey/inventor who takes his best friend on his journey to the moon. What a character Gagaroo is!

Our LUNA series = Our 'Communication Builders'

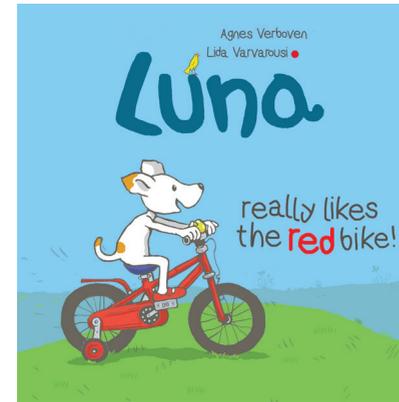

The younger the children are, the more important it is to engage in language development. To communicate, we need a LANGUAGE so we can understand each other by talking.

Words, sentences, stories, we find this in books. We need all kinds of words to grow an essential vocabulary to survive in life.

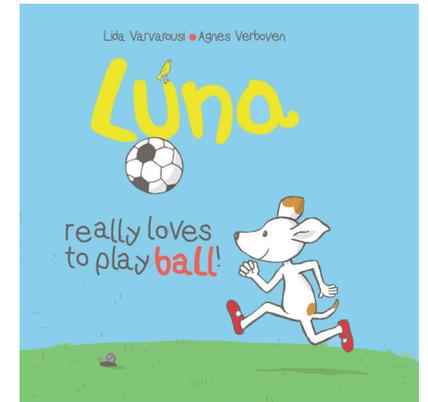

Essential to us in creating children's books, are especially words that express emotions and feelings, depending on the age of the child.

Therefore we like to call our LUNA series: 'Communication Builders'. The Luna stories are close to children's lives and can be read as such. But each book contains a few moments that can be hooked up to start small conversations with children. To find out how skilled they are at expressing their feelings. This way we can better understand the young children and they feel more secure to express themselves.

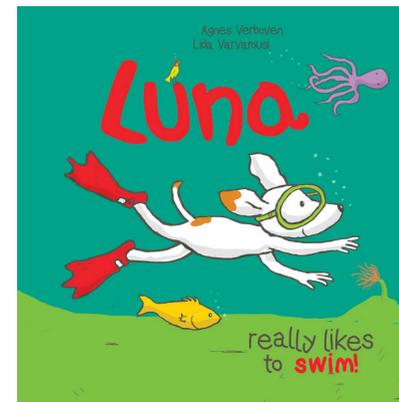

We are convinced that the LUNA ePUB3 editions with the extra features will among other things, provide some extra possibilities in language development.

PAINTTELLINGS

by Lida Varvarousi

An inspiring time! An amazing art form!

Lida Varvarousi was already a successful author and illustrator of children's books when she captured the heart of many children and adults with her Painttellings, an artistic form of expression that makes storytelling into Art.

Keywords here are: telling stories, acting, dancing, performing, singing, life audience, interactive, energy, humour, emotions, imagination, postiveness, creativity, passion and of course the right person on stage who has the skills, the courage, the charisma and love to make it happen.

Such a person is Lida Varvarousi.

For a while, 2020 looked discouraging for Lida to go on with her Painttellings. Thanks to new ways of communication, she can perform online the way teachers have to do these days. A little different, but even so, a great experience for the remote audience and herself. It also allows her to do Painttellings all over the world, in English (or Greek), which is a big opportunity.
